These objects represent each media on a blog post. I'd like to provide an edit link for each object in that array, but I'd like to limit the length of the array to display on the page to something reasonable. I was thinking of providing a controller whose properties correspond to the media object's properties and allowing that controller to use the included serialize: function to spit out a friendly enough array to be rendered (kind of like: serialize: [{id: 1, media: 2}, {id: 2, media: 3}]). Is there a way to make that controller's properties 3e33713323
