made to a friend in February, Prabhudeva says: "Being a fan of Krishna, I am sure that it is very difficult to believe that he doesn't exist." In simple mind and straightforward words, Prabhudeva, a devotee of the God, says he is sure of the existence of the great Indian Idol. After all, how could one deny a God in his own religion? The short message, in a simple language, says that he is a big fan of the great Krishna, the avatar of the God and in no way does he believe the God does not exist. Krishna is the only God Prabhudeva knows and he is his favourite. "I cannot accept that when Sri Krishna is the creator of the universe, there is no God who watches all the activities and works in the universe. Whether someone accepts or rejects it, I am sure that Krishna exists," he says. In a short note made to a friend in February, Prabhudeva says: "Being a fan of Krishna, I am sure that it is very difficult to believe that he doesn't exist. The question is, why do some people even question it? "So far, as a 13-year-old boy, I didn't believe in God because I was taught about the different Gods, their vedas, the dharma sutras, that I later started doing a lot of reading about the old and new Gods, but in the end, I couldn't accept other Gods. "I simply did not want to go to the monastery and listen to all the stories about the Gods. My only idol was Krishna. I was in his world, I would help him do all the things that he wanted to do and when he wanted to help me, he would. That was all the worship I did," he says. During the time, Prabhudeva was fond of reading, so much so that his reading was
