If you want to cut in Photoshop, you will need to figure out how to use the same workflow in Photoshop Elements to achieve the same results. You can open a new image in Photoshop Elements by double-clicking on the image in your computer's file browser, or by opening the image directly with Photoshop Elements. After opening the image, you can drag the image onto the grid to select it. This takes it out of your image browser and into Photoshop Elements to be the active image. At this point you can access the list of tools at the bottom of the screen. The highlighted tool is the main tool. Other tools are just variations of the main tool. To select a tool, press the spacebar to toggle the selection tool on or off and then drag over an area of the image you want to edit. The tools available in Photoshop Elements are:

- Layers Panel The Layers Panel is used to lay out images and edit layers. It is a rectangular area at the top of the window with a grid-like structure and a color range to indicate the opacity of the layers. Editing an individual layer On top of the grid is a color range, the lower end is the bottom color of the image, the top is the top color, and the center of the range is the opacity. You will use this range to control the opacity of layers. The tool bar is located in the bottom left corner of the window. You can use it to select an area of the image to use. To select an area of an image to work with, click on the portion of the image you want to use, and a dotted line will appear around the area. Select the dotted line by pressing the spacebar to make a selection. Once you've selected an area of the image, the tools you have will be available to work with the area.
- Layers Panel showing selection tools Edit Layers This feature allows you to work with the individual layers of an image. You can move layers, rotate layers, and layer masks individually. Layer masks is an editable layer that will make any part of the layer transparent or opaque. The default tools for this feature are:
  - Add Layer Mask – Add a layer mask to the selected layer to make the entire area transparent or opaque
  - Edit Layer Mask – edit the layer mask, making it transparent or opaque

Q: How to use CASE WHEN in WHERE Clause I need to write a query for a scenario where I need to use CASE WHEN statement for writing WHERE clause in my SELECT statement. Here's the sample data from my query, which I need to write a query which would select the row where SCODE is "T1", then "T2", "T3" and finally "T4". (This would be dynamic and I need to dynamically change the SCODE to make it work) CREATE TABLE `mytable` ( `dummy1` VARCHAR(10) NOT NULL, `dummy2` VARCHAR(10) NOT NULL, `ID` INT NOT NULL, `SCODE` VARCHAR(5) NOT NULL DEFAULT "", PRIMARY KEY (`ID`), UNIQUE KEY `IDX_DUMMY1_DUMMY2` (`dummy1`,`dummy2`)) The expected output would be as follows: ID T1 T2 T3 T4 A: You can use the CASE statement to filter the rows, and the GROUP_CONCAT to concatenate the rows of a string: `SELECT `ID` FROM `mytable` WHERE SCODE IN ('T1', 'T2', 'T3', 'T4') GROUP BY `ID` HAVING COUNT(SCODE) = 4`; Output: ID T1 T2 T3 T4 The CASE statement will return either T1, T2, T3 or T4 in the first part of the query. Beautifully Gathered: Why I Keep An Apple Orchard I've been growing up on a small farm, in a small farming town in upstate New York. Our agricultural heritage started with the village. Growing up in town, the apple orchard was my childhood sanctuary, my haven from the daily home mess. It was right next door, and I felt perfectly at home in that orchard. My father, and his father, before him, planted the trees, harvested the fruit and nurtured the fruit trees; and I was brought up around the reality of the
